The University of Debrecen

(www.unideb.hu)

The University of Debrecen, like other integrated institutions of higher education in the country, was formed on January 1, 2000 by (re)uniting formerly independent institutions. Its historical roots reach back to the foundation of the Reformed College of Debrecen (1538), whose three academic sections later served as the base for the Hungarian Royal University of Sciences, created by Statute no. 36 in 1912. With this past of more than 450 years, the University of Debrecen is the oldest institution of higher education in continuous operation in Hungary based in the same city.

The University of Debrecen has a student body of 33,000. More than 1600 instructors teach at the University, making it one of the largest higher education institutions in Hungary. Its 15 faculties, and 25 doctoral schools undoubtedly offer the widest choice of majors and other forms of training.
